This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

THE colonial records of Connecticut show that a classical school was in existence in Hartford as early as the year 1638. In 1642 the town voted to settle £30 a year upon the school. For the next twenty years it was supported partly by appropriations made from time to time for that purpose by the town and partly by the tuition fees of its pupils. During this time two sons of Governor John Winthrop were here as pupils, and before 1662 ten graduates of Harvard College, from Hartford, had received their preparation for college in this school.

The first bequest in its favor was from William Gibbons, in 1655, who gave to the town of Hartford 30 acres of land in the town of Wethersfield for the support of a Latin school. In the year 1659 it received a small donation from John Talcott.

In 1660 the town voted that "Mr. Wyllys and Mr. Stone be a committee to consider what way may be best for the endowing a free school, and return their judgment at some town meeting."

In 1664 the trustees under the will of Governor Edward Hopkins gave to the town of Hartford the sum of £400 for the support of the school; it was further endowed in 1673 by a grant from the Connecticut colony of 600 acres of land lying in what is now the town of Stafford; in 1680 it received a donation of £50 from James Richards.

Governor Edward Hopkins was born in Shrewsbury, England, in 1600; in 1637 he emigrated to Boston, but soon after came to Hartford. He was the first secretary of state of the colony of Connecticut, and deputy governor under the constitution of 1638. He was governor in 1640, 1646, 1648, 1650, 1652, and 1654, while in the alternate years after 1646 he was deputy governor. In 1653 he returned to England, although according to the colonial records he was governor of Connecticut in 1654. After his return to England he inherited from his brother the office of Warden of the Fleet ("otherwise called the King's Gaol of the Fleete"), and Keeper of the Palace of Westminster, and was elected a member of Parliament. He died in 1657.

His will, dated London, March 7, 1657, contained the following provisions: "The residue of my estate there [in New England] I do hereby give and bequeath to my father, Theophilus Eaton, Esq., Mr. John Davenport, Mr. John Cullick, and Mr. William Goodwin, in full assurance of their trust and faithfulness in disposing of it according to the true intent and purpose of me the said Edward Hopkins, which is, to give some encouragement in those foreign plantations for the breeding up of hopeful youths, both at the grammar school and college, for the public service of the country in future times. . . . My farther mind and will is, that, within six months after the decease of my wife, £500 be made over into New England, according to the advice of my loving friends Major Robert Thomson and Mr. Francis Willoughby, and conveyed into the hands of the trustees before mentioned, in farther prosecution of the aforesaid public ends, which, in the simplicity of my heart, are for the upholding and promoting the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ in those parts of the earth."

As Governor Hopkins in his will did not designate the places or schools to be benefited by his bequest, on the 13th of June, 1664, two of the trustees having died, the survivors, the Rev. John Davenport of New Haven and Mr. William Goodwin of Hadley, signed an instrument from which the following is a literal transcript:

"Wee therefore y^e^ said John Davenport and Wm. Goodwin the only survivo^rs^ of y^e^ said Trustees that we may answer the s^d^ trust Reposed in us, Doe order and dispose of y^e^ s^d^ Estate, as ffolloweth, viz.: To y^e^ towne of Hartford we do give y^e^ sum of ffower hundred pounds of w^ch^ Hills ffarme shall be a part att y^e^ same price att w^ch^ it was sold by us and the pay Ready to be delivered, if there had been noe Interuption, the Rest of the 400^lb^ in such debts, and goods as we or o^r^ Agents shall see mett, provided that this part be Improved according to y^e^ ends of the Donor, viz., for the erecting and maintaining of a schoole at Hartford. . . . We doe further order and appoint the Rest of y^e^ estate of the said Edward Hopkins Esq., (the debts being paid) to be all of it equally divided betweene the townes of Newhaven and Hadley to be in both those townes managed and Improved for the erecting and maintaining of a schoole, in each of the s^d^ townes. . . . Only provided y^t^ one hundred pounds out of y^t^ halfe of y^e^ estate w^ch^ Hadley hath, shall be given and paid to Harvard College soe soone, as we the said John Davenport and Wm. Goodwin soe meet, and to be ordered as we or o^r^ assignes shall judge most conducing to the end of y^e^ Donor."

Harvard College received £100 from the proceeds of the estate in New England, and after the death of Mrs. Hopkins,* which occurred

* Mrs. Hopkins outlived all the original trustees of the New England estate, as well as the executor and residuary legatee of the estate in England. Governor in 1699, forty-two years after the death of her husband, a suit in Chancery was begun against the executor in England, and in 1712 this Court decreed that the legacy and interest, amounting then to £800, should be paid to Governor Dudley of Massachusetts, and twenty other trustees, for the benefit of Harvard College and the Cambridge Grammar School; so that, as a result of Governor Hopkins's bequest, the Hartford Grammar School Fund, derived from this and previously mentioned sources, was largely increased, and there is a Hopkins fund in New Haven, and also in Hadley and Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The town of Hartford, through committees chosen for the purpose, continued for more than a century to manage the school and the funds accruing from the above-mentioned sources, until, upon a petition of the town, the State Legislature, in May, 1798, incorporated the school under the name of "The Hartford Grammar School," and appointed a board of trustees, with power to fill all vacancies occasioned by death or otherwise; so that the obligations of the town to maintain a "Latin school," as stipulated in the will of William Gibbons, to provide "for the breeding up of hopeful youths at the grammar school," as stipulated by Governor Hopkins, and to maintain a free school "for the schooling of all who should come, in the Latin and English languages," according to the conditions of the colonial grant, were performed from 1798 to 1847 by the Grammar School.

At an adjourned meeting of the First School Society of Hartford, held November 5, 1839, to hear the report of the committee appointed at the annual meeting to take into consideration the expediency of establishing a high school, it was voted, " That it is expedient that a public high school be established at the earliest period at which suitable arrangements can be made." After eight years this was done.

Winthrop, senior, in his Journal of Occurrences in New England, under date of 1644, makes mention of her in the following language:

"Mr. Hopkins, the governor of Hartford upon Connecticut, came to Boston, and brought his wife with him (a godly young woman, and of special parts), who was fallen into a sad infirmity upon her divers years, by occasion of her giving herself wholly to reading and writing, and had written many books. Her husband, being very loving and tender of her, was loath to grieve her, but he saw his error, when it was too late. For if she had attended her household affairs, and such things as belong to women, and not gone out of her way and calling to meddle in such things as are proper for men, whose minds are stronger, &c., she had kept her wits, and might have improved them usefully and honorably in the place God had set her. He brought her to Boston, and left her with her brother, one Mr. Yale, a merchant, to try what means might be had here for her. But no help could be had." — Savage Ed. of Winthrop's History of New England, vol. ii, p. 216.

The year 1847 witnessed a notable revolution in educational matters in Hartford; up to that time the privileges of the higher school had been confined to boys, but during that year the PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL, as at present organized, was established by the town of Hartford for the " free instruction in the higher branches of an English, and the elementary branches of a classical education for all the male and female children of suitable age and acquirements who may wish to avail themselves of its advantages." This was accomplished by the energetic and untiring efforts of such men as James M. Bunce, Amos M. Collins, D. F. Robinson, Rev. Dr. Burgess, Dr. Henry Barnard, and the Rev. Dr. Bushnell.

At a public meeting held on the 5th of January, 1847, at the Center schoolhouse, it was again resolved " to be expedient to establish a high school in the First School Society of Hartford, and that the Society's committee be asked to call a special meeting for the consideration of the subject."

At this meeting, which was held on the 11th of January, it was Voted, That Amos M. Collins, Rev. Dr. Burgess, D. F. Robinson, Walter Pease, Edward Button, Roderick Terry, and Timothy M. Allyn be a committee on behalf of this Society, to inquire as to the expediency of establishing a public high school wherein shall be taught such branches of general education as are usually taught in schools of like character, and cannot now be thoroughly acquired in the district schools, such high school to be under the regulations now provided by law, or hereafter to be provided by this Society; also to inquire as to the number of scholars of each sex of the proper age and attainment to attend such high school; also to inquire as to a suitable location, plan of building, expenses thereof, and the current expenses of supporting such a school, and what per cent. tax will be required for that purpose; also whether and upon what terms the funds of the Hartford Grammar School can be made available for its support, and to report the same, together with such other information as they may think advisable, to a future meeting of this Society.

After seven weeks of inquiry and consideration, the majority of this committee, through the Rev. George Burgess, submitted to a special meeting of the Society, held at the City Hall on the 1st of March, 1847, a report in which the several subjects referred to the committee were considered, and closed by submitting the following resolutions for the action of the Society:

1. Voted, That this Society proceed to establish a free high school for instruction in the higher branches of an English, and the elementary branches of a classical education, for all the male and female children of suitable age and acquirements in this Society who may wish to avail themselves of its advantages.

2. Voted, That D. F. Robinson, Thomas Belknap, James M. Bunce, Walter Pease, Jr., Edward Button, E. D. Tiffany, and A. M. Collins be and they are hereby appointed a building committee, who are empowered and directed in behalf of and for the account of this Society to purchase such site or lot of land, with or without buildings thereon, as in their judgment shall most economically and best accommodate the Society for a public English and classical high school, and forthwith proceed to remodel, fit up, or erect, as they may find it necessary, a suitable building and outhouses for said school, with accommodations for not less than two hundred and fifty scholars of both sexes; also to prepare the grounds, erect necessary fences, provide suitable chemical, philosophical, and astronomical apparatus for said school; also to place in said building the necessary stoves and furnaces, seats, desks, and fixtures, the whole not to exceed in expenditure twelve thousand dollars.

3. Voted, That the Society's committee be and they are hereby directed to borrow on the credit of this Society such sums of money, not exceeding in all twelve thousand dollars, as the building committee, appointed by a previous vote of this Society, shall need in the performance of their duties as specified in said vote, and pay over the same to said committee from time to time as required, taking proper vouchers therefor.

4. Voted, That a committee of nine, consisting of the Rev. Dr. Burgess, William J. Hamersley, D. F. Robinson, James M. Bunce, Rev. Dr. Bushnell, Rev. Dr. Turnbull, Francis Parsons, Gurdon Robins, and N. H. Morgan, be appointed to make, if practicable, such agreement with the trustees of the Hartford Grammar School as in their opinion shall be just and reasonable for making the funds of said Grammar School available for the support of the high school or some department thereof; also that the action of the committee in these premises be binding upon the Society.

It should be mentioned here that the original appropriation by the town was found insufficient, and that the sum of $2,250 was raised by the members of the building committee, Mr. Bunce contributing $1,000, and Mr. Robinson and Mr. Collins $500 each.

No further action on the part of the Society was called for until August 6, 1847, when the committee charged with the erection of the building, having reported that the same would be ready for occupancy before the close of the year, was authorized to employ teachers, and make such other arrangements as were necessary for the opening of the school.

At the annual meeting held on the 29th of October, the committee reported that the building was completed, that Joshua D. Giddings of Providence, Rhode Island, had been appointed principal, and that arrangements had been effected with the trustees of the Grammar School by which they would supply and sustain a teacher for the Classical Department. At this meeting it was Voted, That D. F. Robinson, Thomas Belknap, James M. Bunce, Walter Pease, Jr., Edward Button, E. D. Tiffany, and A. M. Collins be a committee to organize the said school at the earliest practicable time; to make all necessary rules and by-laws for its regulation; to determine the qualifications of the scholars desirous of being admitted thereto, either by themselves or through such persons as they may appoint for the purpose; to decide all questions relating to the admission of children and youth, provided that no [Hartford] scholars shall be admitted for pay; to provide for the expulsion of refractory and unmanageable pupils; and to discharge all the functions relating to said school which will not interfere with the school laws of the State.

The High School was formally opened December 1, 1847. The first principal, Mr. Joshua D. Giddings, remained only one term; he was succeeded by Mr. Thomas K. Beecher, who held the place for two years; Mr. McLauren F. Cook then became principal, and remained for one term, succeeded by Mr. Cephas A. Leach, who also left at the close of one term, so that during the first three years the school had four principals.

In 1851 Mr. T. W. T. Curtis became principal of the school and remained for ten years; he was succeeded in 1861 by Mr. Hiram A. Pratt, who remained for three years and five months.

There was then an interregnum of four months, during which the school was temporarily in charge of the vice-principal. In May, 1865, Mr. Samuel M. Capron took charge of the school and retained it until his death, on January 4, 1874, a period of eight years and eight months.

He was succeeded by Mr. Joseph Hall, who retained the position for twenty years.

At a meeting of the High School committee held on the 8th of November, 1893, the resignation of Mr. Hall as principal of the school was accepted, he being made Principal Emeritus, and Mr. Charles Henry Douglas was chosen in his stead. The following resolutions in relation to Mr. Hall's resignation were passed:

WHEREAS, Mr. Joseph Hall, principal of the Hartford Public High School since 1874, has signified his desire to retire from the position so long and creditably held by him, it is

Voted, That his resignation as principal of the school be, and is hereby, accepted, the same to take effect upon the assumption of the duties of the office by his successor. And

WHEREAS, In the opinion of this committee, the school cannot afford to entirely dispense with the experience, knowledge, and services of Mr. Hall, therefore, it is Voted, That he be continued in the High School at one-half his present salary during the pleasure of the committee, to perform such duties as may be required of him by the committee and principal. And it is further Voted, That in accepting the resignation of Mr. Hall the committee express and place on record their appreciation of his faithful, judicious, and successful services, extending over a period of more than thirty years. For twenty years he has been at the head of the school. Its record during all this period, and the rank which it holds among the educational institutions of New England, are the strongest and most eloquent testimonials to his excellence as a teacher, his wisdom as an administrator, and to the purity of his character. In partial recognition thereof, and as a slight tribute to his long, faithful, and efficient service to the school, he is hereby appointed its Principal Emeritus.

Mr. Hall retained the position of Principal Emeritus until his death, which occurred June 10, 1896.

In April, 1895, the resignation of Mr. Douglas was accepted, and Mr. Edward H. Smiley, the present principal, who has been connected with the school since 1890, was elected to the principalship.

THE FIRST HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING, which was erected in 1847 at the corner of Asylum and Ann Streets, was a plain, three-story, brick structure, about 70 feet long by 40 feet wide. The entire cost of the building, completely furnished, including the land, was less than $15,000. The school occupied this building until 1870, when the lot, 135 by 150 feet, was sold for $61,500.

In 1869 a building was erected upon the present High School lot on Asylum Hill, in Hopkins Street. The lot was 305 feet front and 295 feet deep. The building was 100 feet long by 85 feet wide, and cost, including the lot, $160,000.

This building was enlarged in 1877, at a cost of $24,000, by the erection of an additional building communicating with it.

The enlarged building, with all its contents, was destroyed by fire on January 24, 1882. Within less than one week the school was again opened in temporary quarters in Batterson's Block, corner of Asylum and High Streets.

A town meeting was held on February 6, at which the High School committee for that year, Mr. James G. Batterson, Mr. James L. Howard, Rev. Edwin P. Parker, Rev. George Leon Walker, and Mr. Edward S. White, were appointed a building committee, and an appropriation of $200,000 was made for erecting a new building. Additional appropriations, amounting in all to $85,000, were afterwards made by the town for the purpose of finishing the building and supplying it with furniture, library, and apparatus.

Mr. George Keller of Hartford was appointed architect. The first stone of the foundation was laid on May 12, 1882, and the building was occupied by the school on January 3, 1884.

This building faces the east; it is in the secular gothic style, and is fireproof; the basement walls are of rock-faced brown stone; the outer walls above the basement are of Philadelphia pressed brick, with dressings of brown stone for the doors and windows. All the floors are laid upon brick arches supported by iron beams; the stairs are of stone supported by brick arches, and the plastering of the walls and ceilings is laid directly upon the brick without lath; the outer walls of the building are 20 inches thick, and enclose an air space of 4 inches, thus securing perfect dryness of the inner surface; the partition walls, all of which are of brick and extend from the floor of the basement to the roof of the building, are 20 inches thick up to the level of the first floor, and from the first floor to the roof are 16 inches in thickness. The building is 236 feet long, and averages 100 feet in width.

In the south end of the basement, communicating with each other by means of archways, are four rooms, each 31 by 43 feet, which are used as lunch rooms and play rooms for the boys; in the north basement there are corresponding rooms for the girls. In the front of the basement is a room, 30 by 44 feet, intended originally for a laboratory for the classes in chemistry, but used now for a bicycle room.

The first story had originally four entrances, with doors opening outward, two on the front, one on the north, and one on the west side. A reception-room, 15 by 30 feet, and the principal's office, 15 by 20 feet, are at the left of the main entrance. Next is a room, 30 by 44 feet, which is used both for a teachers' library and the main office; this room is connected by electric bells and speaking tubes with all parts of the building, and here is located an electric clock which controls all signals and the individual clocks in the various rooms; adjoining this room is a recitation-room, 15 by 30 feet. On this floor are four school-rooms, each 41 by 33 feet, for the Fourth Class, and three for the Third Class; also five dressing-rooms for the Third and Fourth Classes, and one for the use of teachers.

The second story, which is reached by three broad stairways, one in the north end of the building and one each on the east and west sides, contained originally an assembly hall, 64 by 100 feet, capable of seating twelve hundred persons. During the summer of 1896 this assembly hall was divided into four school-rooms, each 41 by 33 feet, which are used for the Senior and Junior Classes. This story contains also a Senior Class room, 30 by 60 feet; two Junior Class rooms, each 30 by 40 feet; a lecture-room, 30 by 40 feet, three recitation-rooms, and a book-room. There are also on this floor four dressing-rooms for the use of the Senior and Junior Classes.

In the third story the only rooms originally finished were for the use of the classes in drawing and for the boys' debating club, but during the summer of 1890 eight additional rooms were made, and five years later an unfinished room in the observatory tower was finished, making an excellent recitation-room for about thirty pupils. Still another change was made during the summer of 1903, when the space at the south end of the building was converted into six excellent rooms, three of which have been fitted up for the use of the Business Department.

There are two towers in this building, one, 126 feet high, which originally contained a clock, and another, 98 feet high, containing the astronomical observatory, which is surmounted by a hemispherical revolving dome, 17 feet in diameter. This is furnished with a telescope having an object glass of 9½ inches aperture, made by Alvan Clark & Sons of Cambridge, Massachusetts. Its focal length is 11 feet and 4 inches; its declination circle is graduated on silver to 15′, and by vernier reads to 1′. The hour circle is graduated to single minutes, and reads by vernier to five seconds. The equatorial mounting and driving clock and the revolving dome were made by Warner & Swasey of Cleveland, Ohio.

Recognizing the necessity of enlarging the school building at an early date, the town purchased, in October, 1893, for $50,000 all the land adjoining the High School grounds on the north, with a frontage of 300 feet on Asylum Street.

In November, 1896, the town of Hartford appropriated $160,000 for an extension to the High School building.

This extension was designed by the architect, Mr. Keller, and the plans were made so as to include a manual training building, for which, also, an appropriation had been voted.

The original building has an area of 23,500 square feet, while the extension has an area of 26,000, and the manual training building 8,500 more, so that the entire addition to the High School is nearly 1½ times its original area.

So extensive an addition to a building already complete in itself is not easily made, yet the new building is joined to the old one so skillfully that the façade on Hopkins Street presents one harmonious whole, not suggesting in the least the idea of an addition. The extension is executed in substantially the same kind of materials, and the new roof is fireproof as well as the rest of the building. The addition extends northerly toward Asylum Street 190 feet, leaving a court in the rear, over 40 feet wide, for light and air between the new building and the old. This court is enclosed on three sides only, being open toward the west. On the front of the building a staircase tower, containing a clock with four dials, is placed 40 feet north of the old clock tower, and is of similar design. The space between these towers on the first floor is devoted to the main entrance to the building, giving ample vestibule and lobby room. This entrance is very properly made a prominent feature of the design, coming, as it does, practically in the center of a façade nearly 450 feet long. Three wide, arched doorways, flanked by the two staircase towers, each 24 feet square and 126 feet high, give a commanding effect to the front.

The main corridor is continued in a straight line toward the north, and leads to a porch at the north end of the building. At the right of this porch, inside the building, is a wide stairway leading down to the basement and up to the third floor. The front of the building is occupied on the first floor by two school-rooms and a reading-room, each 30 by 40 feet, and a dressing-room, 14 by 30 feet. The light in these school-rooms comes from the longer side of the rooms, so that the inner wall is but 30 feet from the windows. On the second floor, above these rooms, are three science laboratories, each 30 by 40 feet, with a store-room, 14 by 30 feet, adjoining. Over the vestibule, between the two central towers, are two recitation-rooms, each 20 by 20 feet. On this floor, on the other side of the main corridor, is an assembly hall, 70 feet wide, 106 feet long, and about 46 feet high. It has windows on three sides, and a gallery at the south end. At the north end is a teachers' platform. The principal entrance to the hall is at the south end, but there are also side entrances from the main corridor. The floor and gallery give accommodations for about fourteen hundred persons. South of the assembly hall is a lobby, 20 feet wide and 70 feet long, leading directly from the hall to the two central staircases contained in the towers. A teachers' dressing-room, 15 by 24 feet, opens off from this lobby. The gymnasium occupies the entire space under the assembly hall, and is 24 feet high. An instructors' room, examination rooms, lockers for boys and girls, and other necessary accommodations are suitably arranged in the basement, which is well lighted. On the third floor are two science laboratories, with apparatus room and teachers' laboratory adjoining, one recitation-room, one store-room, and a large school-room which occupies the space between the towers.

At a town meeting held in October, 1895, a committee was appointed to consider all matters pertaining to the establishment of a manual training school in Hartford, and to investigate the advisability of such a school and the cost of the establishment and maintenance of the same. This committee consisted of six citizens of Hartford, namely: Messrs. Jacob L. Greene, George H. Day, Joseph A. Graves, John J. McCook, Andrew F. Gates, and J. A. Mulcahy. The results of the investigation of this committee were submitted to a town meeting held some two months later, and, so far as they pertain to the High School, are embodied in the following votes:

Voted, That the High School committee be, and they hereby are, directed to build an addition to the present High School, to be devoted to purposes of manual instruction, as follows:

For girls: In cooking, sewing, drawing, wood-carving, and clay modeling.

For boys: In woodwork, ironwork, drawing, and wood-carving.

To supply the same with proper furniture and apparatus, and to secure the requisite number of teachers for instruction in the same.

Voted, That said committee be, and they hereby are, authorized to expend for the erection of said addition to the High School the sum of $12,000, and for the furniture and equipment of the same the further sum of $10,000; and that the treasurer be directed to honor such drafts as may be made from time to time by the said committee for the above-mentioned purposes, not exceeding in the aggregate the amounts hereby designated and appropriated.

Voted, That said High School committee be, and they hereby are, appointed a building committee for the purposes mentioned in the two preceding votes, and that they be authorized to add to their number at such times and in such manner as may to them seem best.

J. L. GREENE,
G. H. DAY,
J. A. GRAVES,
J. J. McCOOK,
A. F. GATES,
J. A. MULCAHY,
Committee.

The report of this committee was adopted in town meeting, together with the votes recommended by the committee. Inasmuch as the appropriation called for exceeded the sum of $10,000, the charter of the city of Hartford required that the action of this town meeting be approved by a vote of the town by check-list. At the spring election in April, 1896, the town, by a very large sustaining vote, appropriated the sum called for in this report, and at the next meeting of the Board of School Visitors definite action was taken towards establishing manual training in our public schools.

The High School committee for this year, Messrs. Charles E. Thompson, Joseph Schwab, Edward J. Mulcahy, Flavel S. Luther, and Francis R. Cooley, after careful investigation, found that the sum recommended by the citizens' committee, $12,000, would not be sufficient for erecting the manual training building with such additional rooms and conveniences as they deemed necessary for its highest efficiency. Upon their recommendation the town voted, at the election held November 5, 1896, to appropriate the further sum of $16,500 for this purpose, and the sum of $160,000, as before stated, for the High School extension.

The manual training building is placed in the rear of the extension, and 43 feet away from it, and is of mill construction. It is a two-story and basement building, 132 feet long by 64 feet wide. The basement and the first and second floors are even with the corresponding floors in the extension, and are connected with them by corridors 8 feet wide. The basement contains the forging shop and an experimental laboratory, with an engine-room and engine for furnishing power for the manual training shops. The first story contains the woodworking and machine shops, molding and metal-working rooms, an office for the superintendent, stock-room, locker, and store-rooms. The second floor is arranged for the drawing-room, modeling-room, carving, sewing, cooking, locker, store, and toilet-rooms.

The system of heating and ventilation, which was under the supervision of Prof. Charles B. Richards of the Sheffield Scientific School, Yale, includes both the old and the new part of the main building and the manual training building. A large fan supplies air to both buildings in all the class-rooms and recitation-rooms, assembly hall and gymnasium.

This air, before entering the fan, passes over tempering coils, by means of which it is heated to a temperature of about 65 degrees. Directly in front of the fan (which is a double discharge), on either side, is placed a group of supplementary heaters, that on the east side for the entire main building, and that on the west side for the manual training building.

At each of these supplementary heaters provision is made for causing the air either to pass over this heating surface or to pass by without touching it, and two lines of piping convey the air from each heater to the several vertical flues in each building. The air which passes over the heating surface is carried in the lower pipe, which is called the "hot-air" pipe, and the air which passes by is carried in the upper, which is called the "tempered-air" pipe, thus forming what is commonly called the "double-pipe system."

At the base of each vertical flue a connection is made with each pipe, so arranged with mixing dampers, which are automatically controlled by the temperature of the rooms, that a constant temperature is maintained. Supplementary heating surface is also placed in each room under the windows. The corridors and all rooms other than those before mentioned are heated by direct radiation. Steam is supplied to all the heating surface in the main building, the old as well as the new part, by a battery of four boilers 54 inches in diameter. These four boilers are run at a pressure of from 2 to 10 pounds, and all returns to them from the direct radiation are by gravity. A fifth boiler, 66 inches in diameter, is run at a pressure of about 60 pounds, and is used chiefly for furnishing power to run the supply-fan engine, an engine for generating electricity, and a special engine for the manual training building.

The indirect heating of the manual training building is accomplished by using the exhaust steam from these engines, supplemented by live steam from the fifth boiler, through a reducing valve, at a back pressure not exceeding 6 pounds per square inch. This exhaust steam is also utilized in the tempering coils, for tempering the air before it enters the large supply-fan, and is also used in mild weather in the indirect heaters for the main building, by means of a by-pass. The exhaust steam first passes through a feed-water heater.

The returns from all the indirect surface are trapped into a receiver and automatically conveyed to the boilers by a pump.

The removal of the foul air from the main building is accomplished by a large exhaust-fan in the attic, operated by an electric motor, all of the vent flues being connected with a foul air chamber in the attic, from which the fan delivers the air into one of the towers and thence out of doors.

The ventilation of the manual training building is through heated flues in the walls, all of which extend out of and above the roof, and are fitted with dampers just under the ceiling of the top floor.

Ample ventilating flues are also provided in each of the wardrobe rooms, and in these rooms a line of steam-pipes runs along the partitions close to the floor, in order to dry the clothing in wet weather.

The water-closets, which are entered from the wardrobe rooms on each floor, are entirely outside the building, and each has its own system of warming, ventilation, and drainage, which is also entirely outside the building.

The electricity which is generated supplies power to the large ventilating fan in the attic of the main building, and to a few lights in the engine-room and air chamber.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION, ETC.

ALL candidates for admission to the High School must be twelve years of age. If from the Brown, South, Second North, West Middle, Arsenal, Washington Street, Northeast, or Northwest schools, they must have been members of the first class of the first department of such schools for one year, and must also be recommended by the principal of the school which they last attended as qualified by attainments and character to become members of the High School. They must also, at the time of their application, present a certificate of the requirements herein named, signed by the principal of the school which they last attended. If not so certified for promotion to the High School, they will be obliged to pass the regular examination in reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography, grammar, and history of the United States.

The regular examination occurs at the close of the summer term, in June, but those prevented by sickness or other sufficient cause from attending it are allowed a special examination at certain times during the year.

Candidates residing out of Hartford, if qualified in the above-mentioned or equivalent studies, may be admitted at any time when school is in session on a special examination which shall be satisfactory to the Principal and to the Superintendent of Public Schools. It should be understood, however, that this examination is not designed to be in any essential respect on a lower standard than the other.

In examinations each candidate receives printed questions upon the principal studies which are to be answered only in writing.

The charge for tuition to pupils whose parents or guardians reside elsewhere than in Hartford is $3.25 per week.

IRREGULAR PUPILS

It is expected that those who enter the school will join some one of the regular classes in any department, take the studies prescribed for that class, and attend all the school sessions. But in special cases, when delicacy of health requires it, pupils are allowed to become irregular both in attendance and recitations.

DISCIPLINE

Copies of the "Regulations of the High School" may be had upon application to any of the teachers.

Parents are kept informed of the standing of their children in scholarship, attendance, and deportment by reports issued at regular intervals. These reports must be returned with the signature of the parent or guardian.

EXAMINATIONS

Written examinations occur in January and June, and no pupil is allowed to advance to the next class who has failed to pass them satisfactorily.

GRADUATION

Diplomas are presented at the close of the school year, in June, to those who have completed the regular course of study. Original essays and orations are prepared by the graduating class, and a limited number of these are read or recited on the day of graduation.

Pupils who wish to extend their course of study after graduation are received into any department, and allowed to pursue any studies which they may have omitted in the regular course, or which they may wish to review. It should be understood, however, that they are subject to the same rules and regulations as the other pupils, regarding scholarship, attendance, and deportment.

There are two prize funds, established respectively by the Classes of 1878 and 1888, from the income of which $5.00 is given each year to those members of the graduating class who write and deliver an oration and essay in the best manner. There is also a fund established by the Class of 1889, which yields $5.00 to the pupil who passes the best Latin examinations in the four years' course, a like fund established by the Class of 1896, which yields $5.00 to the pupil who passes the best examinations in Mathematics for the four years, and one given by the Class of 1900, yielding the same amount to the pupil who passes the best examinations in English.

Questions used in Recent Examinations of Candidates

ARITHMETIC

I. Copy and add: 30460; 5207; 78.003; 83000; 486.000575; 8278; 23.961; 203040; 306.0708; 9070; 243.81; 62873.979.

If the product of two numbers is 346712, and one of the factors is 76, what is the other factor?

What is cancellation? Divide, using cancellation:

$$15 \times 80 \times 27 \times 28 \text{ by } 7 \times 20 \times 8.$$

Find the least common multiple of 4, 14, 28, and 98. Find the greatest common divisor of 1313 and 4108.

II. The product of three numbers is $\frac{6}{7}$; two of the numbers are $2\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{7}{8}$; what is the third?

Reduce $\frac{\frac{5}{8} \text{ of } 16.125}{4\frac{7}{8}}$ to a decimal fraction.

$\frac{1}{8}$ of $\frac{4}{7}$ is what part of $\frac{8}{11}$?

Divide $\frac{3\frac{3}{8}+\frac{6}{8}+\frac{1}{11}}{\frac{3}{8} \text{ of } 5\frac{5}{7}} \times \frac{6}{\frac{4}{5}}$ by $\frac{133}{141}$.

III. A wall of 700 yards in length was to be built in 29 days; 12 men were employed on it for 11 days, and only completed 220 yards: how many men must be added, to complete the wall in the required time?

IV. If a barn is 50 feet wide and the ridge-pole is 12 feet above the eaves, what will be the length of the rafters?

What is the area of a circle 5 feet in diameter?

V. What is the simple interest on $3,750.87 for 2 years and 9 months at 8 per cent.?

The interest of $3,675 for 3 years is $771.75; what is the rate?

VI. By selling 12 pounds of tea for $7.56 a dealer gains 5 per cent.; what does he gain or lose per cent. by selling 50 pounds of the same tea for $31?

VII. A traveler, on reaching a certain place, found that his watch, which kept correct time for the place he left, was 2 hr. 22 m. slower than the local time. Had he traveled eastward or westward, and how far, in circular measure, had he come?

VIII. On a railroad 149 mi. 243 rd. 4 yd. 2 ft. long, there are 18 stations, including one at each end of the road. What is the average distance between the stations?

IX. How many bricks, 8 inches long and 4 inches wide, will pave a yard that is 100 feet by 50 feet?

How many acres are there in 250 city lots, each of which is 25 feet by 100 feet?

X. A, B, and C rent a farm for $270. A puts 200 sheep on it; B, 150; and C, 100. After 6 months A sells $\frac{1}{4}$ of his flock to C, and 3 months later B sells $\frac{1}{3}$ of his to A. How much of the rent should each pay at the end of the year?

GRAMMAR

I. Define monosyllable, dissyllable, vowel, diphthong, adverb, personal pronoun.

Write down all the relative pronouns that you know.

Write four short sentences containing:

(a) a predicate adjective.

(b) a verb in the passive voice.

(c) a verb in the active voice, progressive form.

(d) a relative clause.

II. Decline the personal pronoun of the third person, masculine gender.

Form the plural of pencil, half, goose, monkey.

Form the possessive singular and plural of cat, city, child, fox.

Compare heavy, little, beautiful, rapidly.

III. Give the principal parts of steal, catch, go, hurry.

Write the present and the perfect infinitive, active and passive, of the verb praise.

Conjugate the verb go in the past tense, indicative mood; first in the simple form, then in the progressive form.

Conjugate the verb help in the present perfect tense, indicative mood, passive voice.

Conjugate the verb drive in the present subjunctive active.

IV. Parse the italicized words in the following sentence: Before daybreak, aroused by a slight noise, the soldiers rushed from the camp to see who were coming; but the enemy's scouts, hearing the footsteps, had fled before they could be captured.

V. Tell whether the sentence preceding is compound or complex, and why. Point out the subordinate clauses, and tell what each modifies. What two verbs does but connect?

VI. Write a single paragraph, not over a page in length, on one of the following topics:

Directions for making something.
One of my friends.
Reasons why I wish to write correctly.

VII-VIII. Write a letter to a friend, giving the history of one day in your life. Make the letter about two pages long, with heading, introduction, superscription, etc.

IX-X. Write a composition at least two pages long on one of the following topics:

How John Allen won Priscilla.
One of the best times I have ever had.
Paul Revere's ride.
How I spent the Fourth last year, and how I plan to spend it this year.
Some things I expect to enjoy while attending high school.

GEOGRAPHY

I. What distinction is there between a bay, a fiord, and a harbor? Locate one of each. How are deltas formed? Locate two delta plains.

What is the heat equator? What countries does it cross in June?

II. Give the ocean boundaries of North America. What is the extent of the central plain of the continent? What rivers drain it and into what waters? In which part are there large lakes? Name two. Locate and give the characteristics of the part called the wooded plain; the prairies; the northern plain.

Locate the Gulf of California, Yucatan, Sitka, Lake Nicaragua, Nova Scotia, Martinique.

III. Which parts of Europe are mountainous? What countries lie wholly or in part in the lowland? What waters are on the west of Russia? south of Russia?

In what direction from the Arctic Circle is Iceland? Nova Zembla? Archangel? Hammerfest?

IV. Through what countries does the Rhine flow? Locate and tell something about Lucerne, Berlin, Dresden, Havre, Venice, Mt. Vesuvius, Vienna. What waters are connected by Strait of Otranto? Strait of Dover?

Describe the position of Denmark and name its capital.

Compare the coast of Norway with that of Spain. What exports might these countries exchange, and from what ports?

V. What is the largest country of Asia? What physical barriers have served to separate its inhabitants from those of other countries?

What and where are the two greatest seaports of India? Which has better opportunities for European commerce? Why?

VI. Draw a map of Africa. Place upon it four large rivers and name them. Name the bodies of water surrounding the continent; locate Cape Colony, Sahara Desert, Egypt, Kongo state, and Madagascar.

VII. Compare South America with Africa as to

(a) Position and size.
(b) Native races.
(c) Occupation and development by whites.
(d) Physical and political relation to other continents.

VIII. In what region of the United States does each of the following occur? Anthracite coal, bituminous coal, iron ore, wheat, natural gas, cotton, corn, rice, silver, petroleum.

IX. Through what states does the Missouri River pass, and what ones does it separate? Name a city situated upon it in each state. Describe the flood plain of the Mississippi; its value and danger to its inhabitants.

Locate and describe Niagara Falls, Minneapolis, Yellowstone Park, Grand Rapids, Savannah.

X. Compare New England with any equal area between the Rocky and Appalachian Mountains in regard to (a) Surface.

(b) Large cities.
(c) Industries.
(d) Population.

HISTORY

I. Write on the discoveries of —

(a) John Cabot.
(b) Cartier.
(c) De Soto.
(d) Cortez.
(e) Magellan.

II. Describe the most important events of the administration of Thomas Jefferson.

III. Give an account of —

(a) John Paul Jones and the Bon Homme Richard.
(b) Perry on Lake Erie.
(c) Farragut at New Orleans and Mobile Bay.
(d) Dewey at Manilla.

IV. Give the main facts regarding —

(a) The Missouri Compromise.
(b) The Wilmot Proviso.
(c) The Dred Scott Decision.
(d) The Kansas-Nebraska Act.

V. Show with a map or by words —

(a) The extent of the United States in 1783.
(b) The addition that was acquired in 1803.
(c) The part that was secured in 1819.
(d) What we got by the Mexican War.
(e) What we got by the Spanish-American War.

VI. Tell what you know of John Brown, John C. Fremont, Miles Standish, William Lloyd Garrison, Robert Morris.

VII. During whose administration did the Civil War begin? Contrast the way in which the president of that time acted towards the seceding states with the way in which President Jackson acted towards South Carolina when that state threatened to secede in 1832. To what was the Republican party pledged when it elected Lincoln in 1860? How long did the Civil War last? How were the slaves set free? How were the seceded states restored to their former position in the Union?

VIII. Under what forms of government has Connecticut been governed since the coming of Thomas Hooker? Who are the national senators of Connecticut? How many representatives does Connecticut have in the lower house of Congress? How many electoral votes will Connecticut have in the next presidential election?

IX. What do you understand by —

(a) A protective tariff.
(c) The president's cabinet.
(c) The veto power.
(d) The spoils system.
(e) Civil service reform.

X. Write on the principal features of the life of Theodore Roosevelt.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

IN October, 1903, the High School Committee, after conference with the Board of School Visitors, and with their hearty approval, voted to establish an evening department of the school under the name of the Evening High School.

During the first year, from October 12, 1903 to March 11, 1904, fifty-nine sessions of the school were held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, with a total registration of five hundred and seventy-five, and an average attendance of two hundred and fifty-four.

The number of sessions for the present year, 1904-5, will be about the same as for 1903-4. The total registration has been five hundred and seventy-seven, with an average attendance of two hundred and ninety-one.

By vote of the High School Committee Mr. David G. Smyth was appointed Principal in charge, and Mr. Edward H. Smiley Principal ex-officio.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Those who have been admitted at any time to the High School, or have completed the ninth grade in any grammar school of this city, and are not attending any day school, and those who are recommended by the Principal of the Evening Grammar School, may be admitted to the various classes without an examination. Others are required to present satisfactory evidence that they are prepared to pursue successfully the studies which they may select.

SUBJECTS TAUGHT

English, French, German, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Physics, Chemistry, Bookkeeping, Typewriting, Stenography, Wood-working, Metal-working, Free-hand Drawing, and Constructive Drawing.

COURSES OF STUDY

The English Course includes the usual literary, scientific, and mathematical studies of a high school.

The Classical Course includes a General Classical and a College Preparatory Course.

The Scientific Course furnishes a preparation for admission to any of the scientific schools.

The Manual Training Course prepares for admission to any of the scientific schools, or for manufacturing or industrial pursuits.

The Commercial Course is designed for pupils who desire special preparation for business.

ELECTIVES

In addition to the regular studies, the following Electives are open to the students in each course:

Free-hand and Constructive Drawing, Vocal Music, Physical Training.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
OF THE
HARTFORD PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL.

As implied in the statement above quoted, it is true that every year there are graduates from the School, girls and boys, earnestly desirous of going to college, but prevented from doing so because of lack of funds.

The number of living graduates of the School is now about three thousand. Of this number less than one hundred and twenty belong to the Alumni Association.

The funds in the hands of the Treasurer, Mr. Atwood Collins, as shown by his last annual report, March 21, 1904, are as follows:

OBJECT DESIGNATED BY DONORS
(INCOME ONLY AVAILABLE)

Class of 1878,	$203.21	Prize for best Graduation Oration
Class of 1888,	144.42	" " " " Essay
Class of 1889,	133.67	" " " Latin Examinations

GENERAL FUND
(PRINCIPAL AND INCOME AVAILABLE)

Amount received from membership fees, . . .	$733.06
Loaned to member of Class of 1903 to assist in defraying College expenses, ...	145.00
Balance available for rendering further assistance,	$588.06

From this statement it will readily be seen that it is very desirable to increase the membership of the Association in order to carry out more fully one of the chief purposes for which the organization was formed, namely, to assist worthy students to secure a college education.

Any graduate of this school, or any person who has been regularly employed as a teacher in this school, may become a member of this Association on application to the Secretary, and payment of the fee of five dollars for a life membership.

The officers of the Association shall be one President, two Vice-Presidents, one Recording Secretary, and one Treasurer.

The regular annual meeting of the Association is held on the [redacted] at half-past seven in the evening, at the High School

At the last annual meeting it was voted to instruct the Executive Committee to bring the matter in printed form to the attention of the Alumni with the hope and expectation that if the purpose of the Association were more fully understood by the Alumni in general its membership would be greatly increased.

The payment of five dollars by any graduate constitutes a life membership.

It is hoped that this year we can add five hundred names to the membership list and a like number every succeeding year, and thus so increase the general fund that the income will be sufficient to enable us, by gift or loan, to broaden the educational opportunities of a considerable number of our earnest and deserving graduates.

The Secretary of the Association, Mr. F. S. Morrison, will be in the reception room on the first floor, at the close of the exercises in the hall, for the purpose of giving membership certificates to such as may wish to join the Association.

For the convenience of those who are not prepared to pay the membership fee at this time, the inclosed card has been prepared.

This card may be left with the Secretary, who will send it to the given address as a reminder.

Those whom this communication reaches through the mail are requested to send their membership fee to Mr. Atwood Collins, Treasurer of the Association, Hartford, Conn.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Any graduate of this school, or any person who has been regularly employed as a teacher in this school, may become a member of this Association on application to the Secretary, and payment of the fee of five dollars for a life membership.

The officers of the Association shall be one President, two Vice-Presidents, one Recording Secretary, and one Treasurer.

The regular annual meeting of the Association is held on the third Monday in March, at half-past seven in the evening, at the High School building.

Copies of the constitution may be obtained from the Secretary, or any one of the officers.

In June, 1903, the Alumni Association received a gift of five hundred dollars from Mrs. Charles C. Beach in memory of her father, the late James G. Batterson, the income from which will be used as prizes for debate

LIST OF GRADUATES

There were no diplomas or special forms of graduation until 1854, and the school records up to that date do not show accurately who completed the course of study. The lists for years previous to 1854 probably contain the names of all who would have been entitled to a diploma, with those of a very few who apparently lacked less than six months of completing the course.

In order that our Quadrennial Catalogue may give as complete and accurate information as possible concerning the Alumni, every graduate is earnestly requested to notify his class secretary of any change in name, address, or title of any member of the class, or of any other facts which may be of general interest.
